SLIGHT FIRES.

Attorney Fields' Loss of $50—Blaze on Brightwood Avenue. There was a slight fire in the house of Attorney Thomas M. Fields, No. 908 Q caused by the overturning of a lamp. Mr account of an attack of rheumatism, was for a few moments apparently in danger cading and accidentally upset the lamp. A woman servant was the only other person woman servant was the only other person in the house, and she called for help at once. Sergt. Hartley and Policemen Smith and Bennett responded to the call, and extinguished the flames.

Fearing the fire might prove to be serious No. 7 engine company was summoned to the house, but when the firemen arrived there was nothing to do. The loss amounted to about $50. The property was insured.

Mice are supposed to be responsible for a blaze in the house of George W. Bates on Brightwood avenue late yesterday afternoon. The fire occurred in the pantry. Before it was discovered the woodwork was burning. Occupants of the house succeeded in extinguishing the flames before more than about $30 damage had been done. It is supposed the mice got hold of some matches in the pantry.

THE MEASURED SERVICE

Explanations and Corrections by the Local Telephone Company.

To the Editor of The Evening Star: Referring to the editorial in Thursday's this note, in the hope that you will corect as far as possible any misapprehension that may have been caused by the statements in that editorial. The following are the facts concerning the rates which you have taken occasion to criticise:

Realizing that there was a large body of people in Washington whose use for the telephone was so relatively small or whose means were so limited that they could not afford to pay the maximum rate of $125 for metallic circuit and $100 for grounded circuit service, in 1806 the company introduced what is known as "measured" of duced what is known as "measured" or "message rate" service, under the theory of which the subscriber pays for exactly the amount of service received by him and the company is compensated for the service actually rendered. This is not a new device introduced to meet the exigencies of the present situation, as stated by you, but has been in existence for several years, and at the present time more than one-fourth of the subscribers of the company are on that basis.

By ascertaining the number of calls trans-that basis.

By ascertaining the number of calls transmitted through the company's exchange in a year and the expinse of operating and maintaining the plant the cost to the company of each call is arrived at. The charges made in this message rate system are based upon this cost per call and are adjusted with reference to the number of calls subscribed for in a manner as equitable both to the company and to the subscriber as can be devised. In order that these rates should be still further reduced to come within the reach of all this message rate system was also applied to party line rate system was also applied to party line service, the charge for 700 calls upon a special line being $60, upon a two-party line $50, upon a three-party line $42 and upon a four-party line $36. These charges are for the metallic circuit long distance equipment.

In your editorial you say that "the public has no control over the number of subscribers on a single wire. The company can regulate that matter to suit itself." This statement is entirely erroneous. The subscriber decides for himself which class of service he will take. If he elects to go upon a special (or one-party) line no other subscriber is ever placed upon the line with him without his consent. If there were he would immediately become aware of it. If he elects to go upon a two, three or four party line he may do so, and is charged only the rate for the class of service actually subscribed for, with the understanding that no more than the stipulated number shall be placed upon the line with him. This is a matter that is regulated, not by the FAST EXPRESS SERVICES.

Ems. Hollowing in without his consent. If there were he would immediately become aware of it. If he elects to go upon, a two, three or four party line he may do so, and is charged only the rate for the class of eact would immediately become aware of it. If he elects to go up company, but by the subscriber. Your statement that service upon party lines is not as efficient as that upon special lines is correct, and it is for this reason that the charges for party line service are less.

It is also true that from four subscribers upon a four-party line the company, would receive $144, or $19 more than it receives from a subsgriber upon a special line for unlimited service; but it must be remembered that the number of calls for which the company would receive $144 would aggregate $2.500, and that there would be four telephones to be installed and maintained instead of one. Your computation of the number of calls per day that would be permitted the subscriber under the schedule is also misleading. It has been our experience that for telephones used for business purposes 700 calls would be more than two a day, for usually business telephones are not used on Sundays and holidays; and the same is true of any of the other groups of calls.

Referring to the statement in this company's advertisement that "mileage charges are dispensed with excepting in a few remote sections of the city," you say: "Just what constitutes a remote section of the city does not appear. Yet the fact remains that it is in these self same remote sections that the need for telephones is greatest." In the first place, the company has entirely dispensed with its mileage charges in Georgetown, the northwest, southwest and Capitol Hill excepting in the extreme northeast and southenst. In the second place, the mileage charges in the remote sections have been very greatly reduced. Of course, mileage charges are absolutely necessary where the subscriber's station is an unusual distance from the exchange, and there is not a single company operating in any of the large cities that does not make an additional charge for mileage to points outside some given radius, It would not be fair to the company that a subscriber in Brightwood, Chevy Chase of Mount Pleasant, for instance, should pay the same amount as a subscriber in the sec

Wilson, was present and made a speech. He also reported that the out-of-town chapters were in a flourishing condition.

It was proposed that a school of methods for Epworth League work be conducted this summer on League day at the Washington Grove camp meeting.

The board extended sympathy for its former corresponding secretary, Mr. Fred E. Woodward, who recently lost a son. Delegates were appointed to the Anti-Saloon League, as follows: Mrs. M. M. Mitchell, R. I. Carr, J. D. Steele, F. J. Metcalf and F. J. Mackenzie.

A report was made by the printing committee on the directory, showing a net profit to the league of over $30.

The transportation committee will have charge of all arrangements for the District Epworthians attending the fourth general conference district convention, which will be held at Chautauqua, N. Y., July 5, 6, 7 and 8.

A resolution was presented recommending an amendment to the constitution, viz. That the election and installation of officers take place October I instead of January I, and that the local chapters be requested to amend their constitutions to conform with the District constitution. The resolution was discussed and laid on the table until the next meeting, in order that more time might be given for consideration of the same.

President Campbell received a telegram yesterday from General Secretary Wilbur P. Thirkield, D. D., of Chicago, stating that he would be in Washington the 30th instant. Arrangements are being made for a big rally at that time to give the new secretary a genuine reception.

EXTENDING ITS PROVISIONS. Amendment of Law Providing for Sick and Destitute.

Mr. Herbert W. Lewis, superintendent of charities, has invited the attention of the Commissioners to a communication from the commander of the Department of the District of Columbia Spanish-American War Veterans, in which he asks that an appropriation of $500 be secured for the temporary care of sick or destitute soldiers and sailors of the Spanish-American war in the temporary home for ex-Union sol-diers and sailors diers and sailors. The letter bears the approval of the pres-ident of the institution in which this work is proposed to be done, and explains that the present appropriation in support of the Temporary Home for ex-Union Soldiers and Sailors can only be expended for the relief of the classes named in the appropriation act.

Mr. Lewis recommends favorable consideration in the matter by the Commissioners, and that appropriate steps be taken to secure the inclusion of the following item in the pending District of Columbia appropriation bill:

"For care of sick or destitute soldiers or sailors of the Spanish-American war, in the Temporary Home for ex-Union Soldiers and Sailors, to be immediately available, five hundred dollars."

In the case of Oscar Judd, colored, tried in Criminal Court No. 1 for the alleged larceny of a quantity of old iron from a brickyard in South Washington, the jury late yesterday afternoon reported a verdict of not gulity.
